Biodegradable Coconut Matting

ABOUT

BioCoir is a biodegradable coconut fibre matting for erosion and sediment control and landscaping applications. BioCoir is ideal for protecting cut faces and exposed soil from erosion due to wind and water.

In addition to the erosion control function, Strol BioCoir allows moisture penetration to assist vegetation establishment while insulating the seed and root zones from extremes of temperature.

BioCoir is available in three grades, BC300JR for shallow slopes and protected areas, with BC400JR and BC450JR for steeper slopes and more exposed sites. It is recommended to pin BioCoir to the soil using Strol Smart Pegs.

BioCoir has a jute net to reinforce the product, making it 100% natural fibre.
